Meet Your Bartlett Arborist Representative

Cory Deniker

Cory's passion for the outdoors and strong family values naturally led him to a career in arboriculture, a field that blends a love of the outdoors, trees, and people. He studied Forest Technology at historic Penn State Mont Alto and earned a B.S. in Forest Science - Urban Forestry from The Pennsylvania State University.

With extensive experience across public, private, and educational settings, Cory joined Bartlett Tree Experts in 2020 to serve the greater Lynchburg area. As an ISA Board Certified Master Arborist, he enjoys working with clients and applying his experience - along with Bartlett's scientific resources - to help them maintain healthy landscapes.

Cory, his wife Jenn, and their family enjoy the sense of community around the greater Lynchburg area. Outside of the excitement of youth sports, they enjoy spending time outdoors exploring Southside Virginia with their dog, Mabel, visiting family and friends, and all things home and garden.
