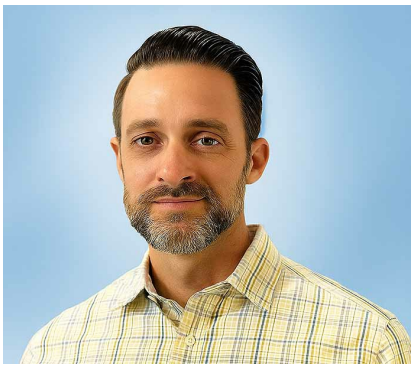
Meet Your Bartlett Arborist Representative

James DeRoussel



James DeRoussel discovered a passion for the outdoors growing up in south Louisiana, inspiring him to complete a Bachelor of Landscape Architecture at LSU before spending the next 15 years exploring the mountain West as an avid rock climber and outdoorsman, residing in Tucson, Arizona. James became a Certified Arborist to improve his knowledge of trees, and to better serve his landscape architectural clients.

Upon returning to his native Louisiana, James left landscape architecture to work full-time as an Arborist. James is an ISA Certified and Louisiana licensed Arborist, with a passion for the city of New Orleans, its people, and its trees.

In his free time, James is an avid musician and enjoys spending time with family.
