Meet Your Bartlett Arborist Representative

Skye O'Connell

Skye grew up in New Jersey then relocated to North Carolina in 2017 to attend the University of North Carolina Wilmington, earning a bachelor's degree in environmental science in 2021. Skye began her career with Bartlett Tree Experts in 2022 as a Plant Health Care Specialist. Through hands-on field experience and continued education, she has developed a strong foundation in arboriculture.

Skye is an ISA Certified Arborist and a licensed North Carolina commercial pesticide applicator. Backed by the resources of Bartlett Tree Research Laboratories, she works closely with clients to evaluate tree and plant health, recommend appropriate care, and helps property owners make informed decisions to achieve their long-term landscape goals.

In her free time, Skye enjoys birdwatching, camping, and spending time outdoors with her partner and friends.
