Meet Your Bartlett Arborist Representative

Trevor Hall

Trevor has a degree in Ornamental Horticulture/Urban Forestry from the University of Maryland. He has worked in the field of Arboriculture since 1989 and began his career with Bartlett Tree Experts in 1992. He held several positions in our Baltimore and Annapolis operations prior to transferring to the Elmsford, NY office in 1999 as a Foreman/IPM Technician. He continued in that role until becoming an Arborist Representative in 2005. Trevor is also the Local Manager for the Elmsford office.

A Certified Arborist with the International Society of Arboriculture (ISA), Trevor helps property owners maintain the health and beauty of their landscapes with knowledgeable advice about tree and shrub care.

Trevor is active in the tree care industry. He is a judge in the annual NYS Tree Climbing Competition (and he was the 2004 winner of the event). He has been the State Arborist Representative for the NYS Arbor Day Celebration and Poster Contest and several local celebrations of Arbor Day. He is past President of the NY Arborist Association, which is the NY chapter of the ISA. Currently, Trevor teaches courses on Tree Care Practices at the New York Botanical Garden.
