

Meet Your Bartlett Arborist Representative

Levi Zeik

Levi began his career with the original local tree care company that later joined the Bartlett Tree Experts family. He has embraced the growth opportunities that came with the transition, expanding both his knowledge and his ability to serve clients with industry-leading expertise. While his education has been rooted in real-world, hands-on experience across every aspect of arboriculture, Levi has also earned several of the profession's most respected credentials.

He is a Board-Certified Master Arborist, holds the Tree Risk Assessment Qualification (TRAQ), and is licensed as a Washington State Applicator, among other certifications. Levi is committed to continuous learning--not only for himself, but also for the coworkers and nature-minded clients he interacts with every day.

Levi Zeik is a Spokane native who grew up in Deer Park, where he graduated and developed a lifelong appreciation for the outdoors. His childhood was filled with bike rides along quiet country roads and countless hands-on projects--whether tinkering with cars or diving into construction work--fueling a passion for problem solving and craftsmanship. Today, Levi lives on the north side of Spokane with his wife, their three children, and the family's energetic Cockapoo. Together, they enjoy exploring the rapidly growing neighborhoods and natural spaces that make the northside such a unique community.
