Meet Your Bartlett Arborist Representative

Michael Emrich

Michael has a degree in Natural Resource Conservation from the University of Massachusetts Amherst. His education focused on forest ecology and large-scale land management, and he has worked in the arboriculture field since 2014. Michael honed his knowledge of tree biology and preservation while working with New York City Parks & Recreation as a construction project manager and arborist. In 2021, Michael joined Bartlett Tree Experts as an Arborist Representative based in Elmsford, New York. He has professional experience in rural, suburban, and urban tree care. In 2023, Michael relocated to Ohio and Bartlett's Cleveland office.

An ISA Board Certified Master Arborist, Michael is also a Municipal Specialist, and is Tree Risk Assessment Qualified. He enjoys helping clients make educated decisions about the health and care of their trees and shrubs to maintain their landscapes. He is passionate about helping trees reach their full potential as well as balancing their needs with surrounding infrastructure.

In his free time, Michael enjoys playing tennis, swimming, and hiking with his wife and daughter.
