Meet Your Bartlett Arborist Representative

Nicholas Robinson

A Houston area native, Nick has had a passion for the outdoors and nature since childhood. Nick has a Bachelor of Science in forestry, with an emphasis on urban forestry, from Stephen F. Austin State University. During college he was the president of the urban forestry club. Nick also did a summer internship with Bartlett Tree Experts and, after graduation in 2021, began his career with the company. Nick advanced quickly, he has first-hand knowledge and field experience in all aspects of arboriculture, from climbing and pruning to exposing root collars, fertilizing, and treating trees for pests.

Nick is an ISA Certified Arborist. As an Arborist Representative he draws on his knowledge and the diagnostic resources of the Bartlett Research Laboratories to help clients make informed decisions to maintain the health and beauty of their trees and shrubs.

In his free time, Nick likes to spend time outdoors whether it's taking care of his trees at home or going for a hike. He also loves to educate people through social media about arboriculture.
