Meet Your Bartlett Arborist Representative

Ryan Aho

Ryan grew up in Massachusetts, in rural Phillipston, where he developed a love for the outdoors and an appreciation of nature at a young age. After studying at Mount Wachusett Community College, he joined Bartlett Tree Experts in February of 2018. He was attracted by Bartlett's Research Laboratory and the team of scientists that support the Company's operations.

An ISA Certified Arborist, Ryan is also an environmentalist who wants to preserve and protect trees. He is dedicated to helping his clients take care of their trees and shrubs.

Ryan lives in Worcester with his wife, son, and dog. He loves traveling New England with his family and finding new hiking trails. He also enjoys visiting wildlife sanctuaries, nature preserves and parks.
