Meet Your Bartlett Arborist Representative

Michael Hebert

Mike got his start in the tree care industry as a high school student in 2003 working at his local Nursery. He continued through college, with a keen interest in implementing good cultural practices to encourage sustainable landscapes while also earning a Bachelor of Arts Degree from UMASS Boston. In the field, he initially focused on design, installation, and care of ornamental and native green spaces, eventually becoming an Arborist Climber in 2015 and progressing further into a Crew Leader, Foreman, and Arborist Representative.

As an ISA Certified Arborist and CTSP, Mike's foremost interest is in working with clients to realize their goals in the landscape. He is passionate about the resources that Bartlett's Research Laboratories provide and enjoys utilizing them to positively influence the health of the greater landscape.

In his free time, Mike is an avid outdoor enthusiast and musician. He enjoys trail running and hiking with his dog, rock and ice climbing, skiing, and playing music with friends and family.
