Meet Your Bartlett Arborist Representative

Cory Deniker

Cory grew up enjoying the outdoors and cherishing family, so it was a natural fit to find his place in arboriculture. His work combines two things he cares deeply about - trees and people. After completing the Forest Technology program at Penn State Mont Alto, Cory earned a B.S. in Forest Science - Urban Forestry in 2006, also from Pennsylvania State University. Cory has extensive experience in urban forestry, arboriculture and natural resource management at both public, private and educational settings. He joined Bartlett Tree Experts in 2020.

An ISA Board Certified Master Arborist, Cory enjoys meeting clients and using his knowledge and Bartlett's resources to help people maintain their landscapes.

Cory and his wife, Jenn, have a young son and love being involved with family, friends and church, and the sense of community in Lynchburg. Aside from youth sports, he enjoys various outdoor adventures, including hunting, fishing, camping, and growing a variety of tasty garden crops with his lovely wife.
