Meet Your Bartlett Arborist Representative

Dan Davis

Dan spent a lot of time in the outdoors of southern Ontario while he was growing up. Hiking, mountain biking and fishing were his childhood pastimes. As a teen he entered the world of Arboriculture through a family business. He honed his skills as a climbing arborist through his early twenties in Alberta. Returning to southern Ontario in his thirties, he moved into a management role. After working for over two decades in the industry, Dan is proud to be a part of Bartlett's progressive scientific care team.

He is an ISA certified arborist with over 20 years of hands on arboricultural experience.

Dan is looking forward to helping clients maintain their landscapes using the knowledge and experience provided by the Bartlett Tree Research Laboratories.
