Meet Your Bartlett Arborist Representative

Garret Lindsey

Garret Lindsey developed a passion for the outdoors at an early age through hunting and fishing with family. Through the years, he always had a strong interest in trees and their impact and value to the environment. Stephen F. Austin State University provided the perfect atmosphere to develop his interest into a career path.

After graduating with a Bachelor of Science Degree in Environmental Science with a minor in Urban Forestry, Garret began his career with the Bartlett Tree Expert company working in the field climbing, pruning, and treating trees for various insects and diseases, gaining the necessary experience to become a Certified Arborist.

Garret is enthusiastic in providing Bartlett's Scientific tree care for your property. After all, trees make a house a home!
