Meet Your Bartlett Arborist Representative

John Murphy

John is a native of Brockton, MA where he graduated from Brockton High School and then attended Massasoit Community College, earning a degree in liberal arts and construction.

After college, John decided he wanted to experience working outdoors and joined a commercial landscape maintenance company. There he met friend and mentor, Dan Foley, of D. Foley Landscape. It was here where John was introduced to arboriculture and his love of trees was born.

Over the next 15 years John moved up the ranks eventually becoming an account manager and then a Business Development associate. Along the way, John attended UMASS Green School, Mass Arborists Tree School, and the Arbor Master Tree Climbing program, and earned other green industry designations.

In 2012, he joined Maltby and Company, a tree service firm in Eastern MA where he grew his career as an arborist representative. John joined Bartlett Tree Experts Waltham office in January of 2020 and he looks forward to working with his clients to optimize their landscapes.

In addition to being an ISA certified arborist, John is a CTSP and is a licensed pesticide applicator in Massachusetts and Rhode Island.

When not working, John enjoys playing golf and spending time with his family.
