Meet Your Bartlett Arborist Representative

Michael Emrich

Michael has a degree in Natural Resource Conservation from the University of Massachusetts Amherst. His focus was on forest ecology and large-scale land management. He honed his tree biology and preservation knowledge while working with New York City Parks and Recreation as a construction project manager and arborist. Michael has both rural and urban professional tree care experience and joined Bartlett Tree Experts as an Arborist Representative in 2021.

Michael is an ISA Certified Arborist Municipal Specialist and is Tree Risk Assessment Qualified. Based in the Elmsford office, he served clients in northern Manhattan and the Bronx prior to becoming the Arborist Representative for lower Westchester County. Michael enjoys helping clients make educated decisions about the health and care of their trees and shrubs to maintain their landscapes.

Michael is passionate about helping trees reach their full potential throughout suburban and urban environments, as well as balancing their needs with surrounding infrastructure. In his free time he enjoys playing tennis with his wife, swimming, and hiking.
