Meet Your Bartlett Arborist Representative

Philip Warrenger

Philip began pursuing his passion for trees in 2003, when he started work at his first job where he was employed by a specialty nursery propagating, transplanting, and installing rare specimen trees for residential clients in Fairfield County. His interest in tree species and tree biology ultimately lead him into the field of arboriculture.

After acquiring his Connecticut arborist license in 2015, he chose to pursue a career at Bartlett Tree Experts because of their industry-leading reputation in tree care science. Philip has spent the last few years as a Plant Healthcare Specialist solving tree problems in regions all over Connecticut including Fairfield, Litchfield, New Haven, Middlesex, and New London Counties. Currently he is an Arborist Representative. Phil is looking forward to advising clients about maintenance for their landscapes to keep them healthy, safe and beautiful.

Phil's favorite landscape tree is the Fernleaf full moon maple (Acer Japonicum "Aconitifolium").
