Meet Your Bartlett Arborist Representative

Rebekah Schulz

Rebekah is a Long Island native who grew up on the South Shore in a small waterfront community. She received her Bachelor of technology in plant science from SUNY Cobleskill and has 10 years' experience in the field as an ISA Certified Arborist. She is tree risk assessment qualified (TRAQ) and holds a 3A Pesticide Applicators license. Professional affiliations include Long Island Arboricultural Association (LIAA) and Cornell Cooperative Extension of Suffolk County. Rebekah is an avid tree lover with special interests in plant health care, mature noble trees, and balanced landscapes.

She finds volunteer work very rewarding and has had a great history working with organizations like Habitat for Humanity and Americorps, NCCC. Rebekah hopes to pass that spirit onto her children, ages 8 and 14. She mostly enjoys spending time with family doing any variety of outdoor activity. You can frequently find her grilling poolside with her husband while entertaining friends and family.
