

Meet Your Bartlett Arborist Representative

Abraham Monahan

Abraham's first job was working on a Christmas tree farm in his hometown of Exeter, RI. He was 12 years old. He's worked with trees ever since. Abraham continued learning about plants by caring for nurseries and golf courses throughout high school.

He began his career with Bartlett as an Integrated Pest Management technician while studying to earn a Bachelor of Science degree in Environmental Horticulture and Turf Management at the University of Rhode Island. Abraham became an Arborist Representative in his senior year at URI, excelling in both his career with Bartlett and his studies.

After graduating with high honors, Abraham provided service for many happy clients in Southeastern Connecticut. After six years, he relocated to the South Shore of Massachusetts to manage the local office there.

Abraham is an ISA Certified Arborist and he is Tree Risk Assessment Qualified (TRAQ).
