SCIENTIFIC TREE CARE SINCE 1907

Bud Reeves

Bud's passion for trees began to develop as a teenager when he worked summers in the mountains near Mt. Lassen for a firewood company. He began his career in arboriculture in 1988, and since then, he has held many roles in the field. Bud joined Bartlett Tree Experts in 1996 as an Arborist Representative and then also became a Local Office Manager. Later in his career Bud returned to serving solely as an Arborist Representative to focus on what he loves best about his job - trees and people!

An ISA Board Certified Master Arborist, Bud is also Tree Risk Assessment Qualified, a State Qualified Applicator, and a Certified Tree Care Safety Professional. Bud enjoys working as a go-between with his clients and their trees, navigating the safest, best and most cost-effective way to achieve client goals while maintaining the trees' natural beauty and health, and always considering safety above all else.

In his free time, Bud enjoys spending time with his family and friends, biking, (bicycle or motorcycle), playing guitar with his band (appropriately named, "Mid Life Krysis"), cooking and gardening in his back yard.
