Michael Falciola

Growing up in a family tree care business Michael developed a passion for climbing and plant health care. Michael attended the County College of Morris and the University of North Carolina Chapel Hill, graduating with a business degree. After a brief time of employment in Prudential's real estate division he was drawn back to working in the great outdoors. He has climbed competitively in NJ tree climbing events. Michael began working at Bartlett Tree Experts in 2012.

An ISA Certified Arborist and a Certified Tree Safety Professional, Michael enjoys serving existing clients, meeting new people, and being an educational resource to both. He is focused on health, safety, and beauty as he cares for, and improves, residential and commercial landscapes.

Michael is married and is the father of two young boys. Michael is an active member of his church and loves to spend time cycling and being outdoors with his family.
